

Organization Name	Mission Statement
Blockchain Chicago	The mission of Blockchain Chicago is to foster and unite the currently unorganized university communities growing around blockchain technology, as well as to educate the university community around the multidisciplinary impacts of blockchain technology and cryptocurrencies. Domains to explore include, but are not limited to: entrepreneurship, economics, finance, computer science, and public policy.
Blue Maroon	Blue Maroon is a musical organization with a heavy emphasis on pushing the bounds of our music, evident through our already existing unconventional line-up and our willingness to not restrict ourselves to a specific style or genre. Recognizing a lack of opportunity at UChicago for new musicians to find other musicians and just have fun jamming, we also endeavor to create a platform for collaboration and musical networking.
Business and Entrepreneurship in the Health Sciences	Business and Entrepreneurship in the Health Sciences (BEHS) is dedicated to enhancing the professional development and industry knowledge of individuals interested in STEM by exposing them to a variety of health-oriented careers beyond research and pre- medicine programs. By serving as a liaison between the fields of STEM and business, BEHS seeks to build a network of individuals who are able to apply their backgrounds in science to succeed in the business world.
ElevateUChicago	ElevateUChicago's mission is to support women today on campus issues related to gender and empower women for the future through skill-building.
Harris Consulting Club	Our mission is to promote interest in the consulting industry and to support the development of consulting career opportunities by providing the Harris School community with year-round education and relationship-building events with consulting firms, classmates, and colleagues.
Make Chicago Smile	Make Chicago Smile (MCS) organizes goofy, smile-inducing projects throughout the quarter, providing spontaneous pockets of levity in the high-pressure atmosphere of the University of Chicago campus, with a larger, eventual goal of engaging the city of Chicago at large. A lean organization, MCS is inherently collaborative with the student body --- alongside projects ideas generated within the organization, we source and provide ongoing support for student ideas throughout the year, enabling students to create projects that make Chicago smile.
